The Honourable David Eby
Ministry of Attorney General
Room 232, Parliament Buildings
Victoria, British Columbia

Dear Attorney General:

Re: Community Care and Assisted Living Appeal Board 2019-2020 Annual Report

I am pleased to submit to you the Annual Report of the Community Care and Assisted Living Appeal Board ("CCALAB") for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 2019 and ending March 31, 2020.

Sincerely,

Alison Narod
Chair, Community Care and Assisted Living Appeal Board

Enclosure

Message from the Chair

I am pleased to submit the Annual Report of the Community Care and Assisted Living Appeal Board (“CCALAB” or “the Board”) for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 2019 and ending March 31, 2020. This report is submitted pursuant to section 59.2 of the Administrative Tribunals Act.

Appeals during Reporting Period

Section 59.2(a) of the Administrative Tribunals Act requires the Board to provide a review of its operations during the preceding reporting period. During this reporting period, there were seven new appeals filed with the Board. There were no active appeals at the commencement of this reporting period. Further details of these appeals and the decisions which the Board issued in relation to them are provided later in this report pursuant to section 59.2(c) of the Administrative Tribunals Act.

Five (71%) out of the seven matters before the Board during this reporting period were closed during this reporting period, and all appeals were disposed of without an oral hearing being held.

There were no applications for judicial review of CCALAB decisions filed in or issued by the BC Supreme Court in this reporting period.

Forecast of workload for the next reporting year and trends noted

Section 59.2(f) of the Administrative Tribunals Act requires the Board to provide a forecast of the workload for the succeeding reporting period. The Board’s workload for the 2020/2021 fiscal year reporting period is expected to remain relatively constant, with no significant increase or decrease from the average numbers seen in the past 10 years, averaging 5-7 appeals being dealt with by the Board each year.

Section 59.2(g) of the Administrative Tribunals Act requires the Board to report any trends or special problems it foresees. One trend the Board has noted leading up to and throughout the course of this reporting period, is the increase in the complexity and length of the matters which are coming before it. Whereas in the past, many Board hearings were scheduled for between one and three days and there were few, if any, preliminary applications for the Board to manage and adjudicate, the nature of the appeals coming before the Board appears to have changed. More complicated legal issues are being raised by the parties, and it is common for multiple preliminary applications to be made on appeals. Through this reporting period, these changes have contributed to an increase in the length of time between the filing of a Notice of Appeal and the scheduling of an oral hearing, and the overall length of oral hearings which are being scheduled. The Board will monitor this trend going forward and will report out on it in the next reporting period.

Plans for improving the Board's operations

Section 59.2(h) of the Administrative Tribunals Act requires the Tribunal to report its plans for improving operations in the future. During this reporting period the Tribunal continued to proudly endorse the Access to Justice Triple Aim, a single goal with three interrelated elements geared at improving the accessibility of the British Columbia Justice sector as a whole. The Tribunal continues to explore ways of making its systems and processes as accessible as possible for the people it serves.

Additionally, during this reporting period, the Appeals Office cluster responsible for providing administrative support to the Board began an in-depth review of service delivery which has resulted in several organizational realignments within the cluster. Registry staff have been increased, providing greater case management capacity for all the tribunals within the cluster, including the Board.

Further, the cluster has completed full implementation of the new case management system which has significantly helped to modernize tribunal operations. With a modern case management system with flexible and adaptive functionality, the tribunal cluster, including the Board, has been able to better and more efficiently manage its appeals, and, going forward, will have easier and more accurate access to appeal information and statistics. This will allow the Board to be able to more effectively track and report out on key performance indicators.

Service delivery will continue to be reviewed over the next reporting period, and further technological and organizational change is expected to occur. The Board will continue to capitalize on technological improvements over the next reporting period.

COVID-19 and Pandemic Response

Importantly, this reporting period saw the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic and resultant state of emergency in British Columbia. In response to the pandemic, the Board implemented its business continuity plan, which focussed on ensuring ongoing service delivery to the users of the tribunal, while maintaining health and safety of tribunal staff and members.

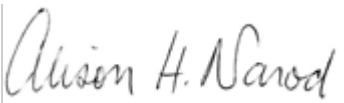

At the outset of the pandemic, questions about disease transmissibility resulted in shifting the way the Board accepted paper-based submissions and materials from parties and how the Board facilitated receipt of those materials by decision-makers. Declaration of a state of emergency and restrictions on in-person gatherings also necessitated research into and training of members in the use of video-conferencing software to ensure effective communication and timely hearing processes.

From the onset of the pandemic and into the next reporting period the Board worked closely with its host Ministry of Attorney General to communicate and consult on emergency measures within the tribunal system in BC.

As a result of the province-wide mandate for appropriate social distancing, the Board quickly shifted its operations from primarily paper-based to primarily electronic. The public was advised of the modification of Tribunal Rules to promote electronic filings and were encouraged to flag pressing and/or sensitive matters to tribunal staff so that the Board could prioritize such matters in case of service disruption. Further, in anticipation of potential future delays in hearing processes, the Board began to consider alternative and hybrid methods of conducting hearings.

Thanks to the dedication and flexibility of staff in the tribunal cluster, and to the adaptability of tribunal members to a new way of working and interacting, the Board did not suffer any service disruptions or adverse health consequences related to the pandemic during this reporting period. I would like to take this opportunity to extend my sincere thanks to all the individuals in the cluster who have worked hard to keep the tribunal open and accessible to the public it serves. Your work as government employees and appointees has been top rate during times which have been difficult for all of us.

At the time of publication of this report the pandemic remains ongoing, and the Board continues to adapt to ever changing circumstances. As such, the Board will report out more fully on additional pandemic-related measures and outcomes in the next reporting period.

Chair, Community Care and Assisted Living Appeal Board

Mandate

Section 29 of the Community Care and Assisted Living Act, SBC 2002, c 75 (the “Act”) provides that a Chair and other members are to be appointed to the Community Care and Assisted Living Appeal Board by the Lieutenant Governor in Council after a merit-based process.

The CCALAB is an independent administrative appeal board that is vested with important statutory powers, exercises quasi-judicial adjudicative functions, and must exercise those functions in accordance with the law. The Board’s purpose or mandate is to provide a specialized, independent, accessible, and cost-effective forum for the hearing of appeals as described in sections 29(2) and 29(3) of the Act which, in summary, provide for appeals that fall into these five categories:

1. Appeals from Medical Health Officer licensing decisions under section 17(3)(b) of the Act regarding community care facilities.
2. Appeals from decisions under section 8 of the Act concerning the early childhood educator certificates of persons who wish to work in a community care facility.
3. Appeals from a Minister’s decision under section 23 of the Act to appoint an administrator to operate a community care facility.
4. Appeals by a person in care, or a person on their behalf, challenging a Medical Health Officer’s decision under section 16 to grant a licensee an exemption from the Act or regulations.
5. Appeals from the Assisted Living Registrar’s registration decisions under section 28(3)(b) of the Act in relation to assisted living residences.

The Ministry of Health’s Guide to Community Care Facility Licensing In British Columbia (the Guide) describes the Act and its purpose as follows¹:

The CCALA governs both licensed community care facilities and registered assisted living residences. In BC, assisted living and facility care are parts of a continuum of care provided to persons who need ongoing support and assistance for a variety of health and disability-related reasons. CCALA also applies to children in licensed child day care facilities and children and youth in group homes.

The Act contemplates a variety of decision-makers and their delegates within government and throughout the health regions making what are collectively many thousands of licensing, registration and certificate decisions each year. The resources and time available to these decision-makers, and the processes they use to conduct investigations and make decisions, are far from uniform. Moreover, even the best “first instance” processes sometimes give rise to a perception by appellants that the process was not fair because the same government office was both “investigator” and “decision maker”. Indeed, if errors are made, they can be made during either or both of the investigation and decision-making stage. The combination of investigator and decision-maker is permitted by the Act, but makes the combined function a quasi-judicial one. The Board’s neutral, independent process is therefore crucial to ensuring an objective and arm’s length review of licensing, registration and certificate decision-making, whether those decisions have been right or wrong.

Licensing, registration and certificate decisions can have very serious impacts on the individuals affected. That is why the legislature has given a “licencee, an applicant for a licence, a holder of a certificate under section 8, a registrant or an applicant for registration” the rights of appeal set out in section 29(2) of the Act. The need for licensing decision-makers to consider multiple interests, subject to the paramount interests of persons in care, was recognized by the Supreme Court in Wilkins v. British Columbia (Attorney General), [1985] B.C.J. No. 1312 (S.C.), a case dealing with child care facilities:

Suspension or cancellation of a licence ... can have serious consequences....

[Decision-makers] have a heavy responsibility, under the Community Care Facility Act and regulations, to safeguard the welfare of children in, or attending, facilities covered by the regulations. It has powers appropriate to the discharge of those responsibilities. No doubt, from time to time, circumstances arise where precipitous action is mandatory in the interests of a child or children, without regard to the niceties of administrative procedure. But, although the interests of the children must always be paramount, it must be a rare occasion when there are not other interests, such as those of Wilkins, to be taken into account. In my opinion, when there are other interests which will be affected by the exercise of ... power, it is incumbent upon it to consider what avenues may be open to it to minimize adverse impacts without compromising the welfare of the children.

The Board’s existence is predicated on the view that an appeal board is necessary to act as an independent safeguard to ensure that licensing, certificate and registration decisions are sound and accord with the law. An erroneous decision to refuse or revoke a licence may have serious adverse impact on access to a good quality placement for children or seniors in the region. An erroneous decision may severely disrupt the lives of parents of children in daycare, or adult children of aged parents in adult community care. And for the licensee, registrant or certificate holder, an erroneous, adverse decision may have a profound impact on that person's business, livelihood and reputation.

Within this context, one key public interest purpose of the Board is to ensure that persons aggrieved by "first instance decisions" under the Act have access to a specialized forum, as an alternative to the courts, in which to hold those decisions to account in a fashion that is fair, efficient, specialized, transparent and independent.

A second public interest purpose of the Board is to ensure that the Board's process is available to members of the public who take issue with any "exemption" granted to the basic child care or adult care standards in the legislation.

The Board's existence is not predicated on any notion that "first instance" decision-makers systematically abuse their power. Rather, it is predicated on the reality that within any system that deals with such important interests in great volume and in a variety of regional settings, error is inevitable. Such errors might include a decision-maker not following proper procedure or adhering to the principles of natural justice. Alternatively, they might include factual errors, errors in the consideration of evidence, or errors of procedural fairness.

In this context, a significant degree of legitimacy and accountability is added by creating a low-cost Board that is capable of holding such decisions accountable in a non-partisan and specialized fashion. Such a specialized forum serves licensees and the public where the decision-maker has erred.

It is also important to emphasize that Board review assists the legitimacy of the first instance decision-maker where the Board upholds its decision. For many appeals which have a high emotional component, a Board decision upholding the decision-maker serves a significant purpose in adding credibility to the first instance process. Further, in each case, the Board gives reasons which are of assistance both in the immediate dispute and to other first instance decision-makers across the Province dealing with similar sets of facts. This purpose applies irrespective of any particular regionalization structure within the Ministry's licensing process.

Tribunal Membership

Throughout the course of this reporting period the CCALAB membership consisted of:

Following graduation from McGill he was employed as a counsellor and family life educator at the Family Service Association in Edmonton. He became Executive Director of that organization in 1970. From 1976 to 1991 he was Vice President of Services for Children for Catholic Social Services. In 1991 he joined an Employee Assistance firm in Calgary (Kelly Lutmer and Associates) and managed the EAP at the University of Calgary. From 1997 to 2001 he was a counsellor with an EAP program in Duncan BC, (South Vancouver Island Counselling and Assessment Service). He then operated his own private practice in Victoria from 2001 to 2014. Don received an Order of Canada for his extensive volunteer activities in 2008. These volunteer activities included serving on many boards and becoming Chair of the Board of the Victorian Order of Nurses of Canada, the Good Samaritan Society of Canada (on 2 separate occasions), the Alberta Association of Children and Families, of Our Place in Victoria and Council member and Chair of several Lutheran congregations in Alberta and BC. He was a member of the Governing Council of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Canada beginning in 1997 and then served as Council Secretary from 2000 to 2011. Donald was a peer reviewer for the North American Council of Accreditation for Children and Families from 1975-2001, conducting visits in the USA and Canada. Mr. Storch is also a member of the Employment and Assistance Appeal Tribunal.

Susan L. Beach

Susan L. Beach has been litigator in criminal and civil courts for 15 years. She has complex trial and tribunal experience, in particular involving expert testimony. She practiced for 10 years in the area of recovery of wildland fire suppression costs and property and timber loss arising from wildland fires. Ms. Beach is also a qualified mediator. She has taken courses in arbitration offered by the ADR Institute of Canada and in adjudication offered by the BC Administrative Tribunals Association. She has been a member of the Natural Resource Law Subsection of the CBA and has delivered talks to the Administrative Law Subsection of the CBA and at the Annual Meeting of the Forest Appeals Commission and Environmental Appeal Board.

Operations

Effective December 1, 2004, the administrative support functions of the CCALAB were consolidated with the Environmental Appeal Board/Forest Appeals Commission Appeals Office (Appeals Office) in Victoria.

In addition to the CCALAB, the Appeals Office provides administrative support to five other adjudicative tribunals. This clustering of the administrative support for eight independent appellate tribunals has been done to assist government in achieving economic and program delivery efficiencies by allowing greater access to resources while, at the same time, reducing administration and operating costs. The additional tribunals include the:

- Health Professions Review Board;
- Hospital Appeal Board
- Financial Services Tribunal;
- Industry Training Appeal Board; and,
- Oil and Gas Appeal Tribunal.

This move has resulted in significant savings to government for the operation of the CCALAB through a shared services cluster approach which takes advantage of synergy and assists government in achieving economic and program delivery efficiencies.

This arrangement has been in operation for 15 years now and has proven to be a very effective and efficient means for providing administrative support to the CCALAB, which in turn enables the CCALAB to effectively and efficiently fulfill its appellate mandate to the public.

Effective April 1, 2017, host Ministry responsibilities for administration of the Community Care and Assisted Living Appeal Board (including budget oversight and member appointments, human resources, facilities, and records supports, etc.) were transferred to the Attorney General as part of the Tribunal Transformation Initiative.

Appeal Activity and Decisions Issued

APPEALS FILED

There were seven new appeals filed during this reporting period. There were no appeals which were open from the previous period. The new appeals filed are described below. Two matters were outstanding at the end of this reporting period.

2019-CCA-001 BY A COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION, FILED APRIL 10, 2019 – Appeal of an Investigation Report of the Vancouver Coastal Health Authority (“VCHA”). The Appellant applied to the Board for a stay of the publication of an Investigation Report on the VCHA website. The Board determined that it lacked jurisdiction over the appeal and the appeal was dismissed without an oral hearing.

2019-CCA-002 BY A COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION, FILED JUNE 17, 2019 - Appeal of a decision of the Registrar of Assisted Living denying a request for individuals to be placed in a proposed assisted living residence. A jurisdictional issue was raised by the parties, however, the appeal was ultimately withdrawn prior to a determination of jurisdiction and prior to a hearing on the merits.

2019-CCA-003 BY AN APPLICANT FOR A LICENSE TO OPERATE A COMMUNITY CARE FACILITY, FILED SEPTEMBER 12, 2019 - Appeal of a reconsideration decision of the Medical Health Officer for Vancouver Coastal Health Authority (“VCHA”) to deny the Appellant’s application for a Family Child Care License. The matter remained open as of the close of this reporting period.

2019-CCA-004 BY AN OPERATOR OF A COMMUNITY CARE FACILITY, FILED NOVEMBER 13, 2019 - Appeal of a reconsideration decision of a Medical Health Officer for Vancouver Coastal Health Authority (“VCHA”) to suspend and cancel the Appellant’s Group Child Care Licenses. This matter remained open as of the close of this reporting period.

CCALB-CCA-19-A005 BY AN OPERATOR OF AN ASSISTED LIVING RESIDENCE, FILED OCTOBER 21, 2019 - Appeal of a decision of the Registrar of Assisted Living to attach conditions to the license of the Assisted Living Facility. The appeal was dismissed during this reporting period for the reason that it was abandoned by the Appellant.

CCALB-CCA-19-A006 BY AN OPERATOR OF ASSISTED LIVING RESIDENCES, FILED DECEMBER 20, 2019 - Appeal of a decision of the Registrar of Assisted Living to cancel the registration of several Assisted Living Residences operated by the Appellant. The appeal was withdrawn during this reporting period prior to a hearing on the merits.

CCALB-CCA-20-A001 BY AN OPERATOR OF A COMMUNITY CARE FACILITY, FILED JANUARY 9, 2020 - Appeal of a reconsideration decision of a Medical Health Officer for Fraser Health Authority (“FHA”) to cancel the Appellant’s Family Child Care License. The appeal was withdrawn during this reporting period prior to a hearing on the merits.

DECISIONS ISSUED

There were no decisions on the merits issued in this reporting period, however the Board issued three dismissal orders for matters which settled or which were withdrawn or abandoned, and issued several preliminary decisions in relation to various appeals. Two significant² preliminary decisions are described below.

Society of Richmond Children's Centres v. Vancouver Coastal Health Authority, 2019-CCA-001(a) (September 20, 2019) - The Appellant appealed the decision of Licensing Officers of Vancouver Coastal Health Authority (the “Respondent”) to impose a term on the Appellant’s license to operate one if its childcare centres. Additionally, the Appellant sought a stay of the publication of the report of the Licensing Officers regarding the incident which sparked their investigation. The Respondent argued the Board lacked jurisdiction to consider the appeal because there was no reconsideration of the Licensing Officers’ decision by a Medical Health Officer (MHO) as required by the legislation. The Board agreed with the Respondent that because a MHO had not reviewed nor reconsidered the decision the Board lacked jurisdiction to consider the appeal and to order the Stay of publication. However, in coming to the finding regarding the lack of jurisdiction, the Board set out several actions of the Respondent in handling the matter which were problematic and gave the CCALAB cause for concern. The Appeal was ultimately dismissed for lack of jurisdiction and the stay application was denied.

Decision: <http://www.ccalab.gov.bc.ca/decisions.htm>

Ofra Sixto (Operating as ICARE Childcare Inc.) v. Vancouver Coastal Health Authority, 2019-CCA-004(a) (March 31, 2020) - The Appellant appealed the reconsideration decision of a Medical Health Officer for Vancouver Coastal Health Authority (“VCHA”) to suspend and cancel her Group Child Care Licenses. The Respondent brought a preliminary application for summary dismissal on the basis that the appeal had no reasonable prospect of success. The Board held that the

² The Board issues numerous preliminary decisions on simple issues such as extensions of time and uncontested applications for temporary adjournment, however the Board only publishes and reports on preliminary decisions which are significant and of precedential value.

Respondent had advanced “a strict and narrow legalistic approach and interpretation” to its application for summary dismissal. The Board declined to adopt the Respondent’s approach. The Board looked at the appeal materials and found that the Appellant had raised appealable issues which were grounded on alleged failures on the part of the Respondent to follow the principles of natural justice and procedural fairness.

Decision: <http://www.ccalab.gov.bc.ca/decisions.htm>

Matters Outstanding at end of Period

There were two matters outstanding at the end of this reporting period.

Judicial Review of CCALAB Decisions

There were no applications for judicial review of CCALAB decisions filed in or issued by the BC Supreme Court in this reporting period.

Performance Indicators and Timelines

Section 59.2(b) and (d) of the Administrative Tribunals Act requires the Board to report on performance indicators, and provide details of the time from filing to decision of matters disposed of by the Board in the reporting period.

The CCALAB appeal process has been designed to be a timely, efficient and cost effective means to hear these important matters. Appeals are a full rehearing of the matter akin to “hearings de novo”, except that the onus remains on the Appellant under section 29(11) of the Community Care and Assisted Living Act to prove that the decision being appealed was not justified. Hearings are primarily conducted orally and in person with a three person panel, however, where circumstances are appropriate, hearings have also been heard in writing before a single panel member. The Board generally designates a lawyer to act as panel chair, with side panelists having adult or child care or administrative experience to ensure the appropriate expertise on the panel to deal with the various issues arising on appeal. Where appropriate, the Board explores with the parties the possibility of mediation or some other form of collaborative resolution of the issues on appeal.

The Board takes pride in its internal mediation services, as oftentimes appeals before the Board are settled by the parties with the assistance of a Board-appointed mediator prior to progressing to a hearing on the merits. This saves unnecessary time and expense.

For those five appeals closed within this reporting period, the overall average time from the date of filing an appeal to its disposition was 90 days (3 months). The shortest time from open to close was 54 days, and the longest was 163 days.

The Board's Practice Directive #1, which is available on the Board's website, provides that the Board will make its best efforts to hear each appeal, orally or in writing, within 120 days of receiving the notice of appeal; noting that this time period may be longer where a party or parties request to adjourn an appeal, or where the appeal is complex and takes multiple hearing days. The Directive also provides that for matters that proceed to hearing, the Board will endeavour to issue a copy of the final decision or order, including written reasons, to each party within 90 days from receiving the last submissions of the parties; again noting that for more complex appeals this timeline may be longer.

As no appeals proceeded to hearing during this reporting period, the Board does not have any data on practice directive timelines.

Finally, section 59.2(e) of the Administrative Tribunals Act requires the Board to report the results of any surveys carried out by the Boards during the reporting period. The Board did not conduct any surveys during this reporting period.

Statement of Financial Performance

(For the fiscal year ending March 31, 2020)

In fiscal year 2019/2020, the CCALAB incurred expenses of $19,645 as detailed below in this six-year chart.
